Dear Friend of Zacchaeus House,

Over the years we have hosted an annual fundraiser luncheon through the courtesy of St. James Parish–Sag Bridge, for the operations of the House whereby we could bring together the Friends of the House and have some good fun with a nice meal and some prizes. The current health crisis has dealt a death-knell to gatherings of all sorts including church as physical proximity was declared by government authorities to be an agent of spreading contagion.

Now, as many places across the country are just now beginning to show a slow emergence from lockdown and shelter-in-place under cautious regulations, we are also aware that many people may be a bit wary still. And this we can understand. For this reason we deem it wise not to hold the in-house fundraiser this year and replace it with an appeal by mail.

As always, we appreciate your generosity with our ministry to displaced adult men. We have been doing this ministry with the leadership of our Deacons since 2002 and the Lord has blessed us with your friendship in being able to assist men put their lives back together following some misfortune in life. We are consoled to see men launch from the House with new directions for themselves aided by some coaching and our donation of a roof over their heads and a place to eat and sleep while putting the particulars of their lives back together. Thank you for joining hands with us in this ministry!
